Indiana Republicans In a Series of Resolutions

NAME HIM FOR PRESIDENT

In Laudatory Language Over Thousand of the Vice President's Fellow Citizens Present His Name to Head the National Ticket.

Indianapolis, Dec. 27.—Resolutions were adopted unanimously at the biennial love feast of Indiana Republicans urging the nomination of Vice President Fairbanks for the presidency. The resolutions were introduced by Governor Hanley, and were adopted with a round of cheers by the 1,000 and more active party workers of the state who were present. The resolutions were as follows:

"We, the Republicans of the state of Indiana, in biennial love feast assembled, send greetings and felicitations to the Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president of the United States, and turn to him for leadership in the pending presidential campaign.
We have often trusted him, and have many times given him high commission.

"His clean life in public and in the home, his cleanliness of conception, his poise of character, his con-

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

servative courage and his great ability have long appealed to us.

"His love of the people, from whose loins he came, the faith he has ever manifested in American institutions and in Republican principles, his ripe experience in public affairs, the support he has given President Roosevelt in the senate, in his present high office and in the memory of the confidence and affection in which the late President McKinley held him, lead us to declare him great and broad and brave enough to deal with the new conditions now before the country.

"We ask his leadership with full confidence in his wisdom and in his patriotism, and promise him in return our highest effort and best endeavor to secure for him the nomination of his party at the national convention to be assembled at Chicago next June." United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge presided, and made the principal address. He said:

"After we elect our president he will revise our tariff. Any man in the party who proposes tariff revision on the eve of a national election is either too uninformed or too insincere to be trusted. Any tariff revision will unsettle somewhat the legitimate business of the country, but a tariff revision before a presidential election would prolong that disturbance for ruinous months. Meanwhile a tariff committee should gather the facts and have them ready for congress.

"We must amend the railroad rate law at points where it is defective.
We must make modern the law which now shackles honest enterprises because it does not fit present conditions. We must prevent over-capitalization and the swindling for which it furnishes opportunity and excuse.
We must drive the canal to completion and improve the nation's waterways so that the people may have the transportation designed by nature.
"We must and will end the infamy and shame of child labor in this republic. Those who say that it is unconstitutional for the nation to stop this national evil deny the authority of the supreme court and the validity of a dozen similar laws already on the statute books. We Republicans regard the constitution as Marshall regarded it: 'The chart of progress, not the shield of wrong.'"

Large Embezzlement Charged.

Debrell, was jailed here on charge of having embezzled from the New Jersey Boiler company of Boonton, N. J., $35,000. He was the company's bookkeeper.

Destruction of Dwelling Causes Frightful Calamity.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH.

John Clark, His Wife and Their Three Little Ones Victims of Flames While the Home in a Boston Suburb Was Being Consumed.

Boston, Dec. 27.—In a fire, which destroyed the residence of John Clark at Watertown, a suburb, every member of the family, five in number, met death in the flames. The dead are: John Clark, his wife and three children, John, aged eleven; Philip, aged nine, and Doris, aged two. The flames had made great headway when discovered by a neighbor. The house is about two miles from the center of town, and by the time the firemen reached the scene it had been burned almost to the ground. The firemen were able to locate the bodies of the father and two boys, but the mother and little girl were not found until the ruins of the house cooled sufficiently to permit a more thorough search. The dwelling was valued at about $5,000.

COSTLY BLUNDER.

Imaginary Murder Results In a Riot Taking Place.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 27.—A dispatch to the Oregonian from Lethridge Alberta says: Because they believed a citizen had been murdered in a Chinese restaurant 1,500 men raided and wrecked the oriental quarter there. Restaurants and laundries were smashed and doors, windows and the entire fronts of buildings reduced to splinters. The regular police force was powerless and brigade of mounted police had been called out to quell the riot.

A story was circulated that Harry Smith, a well known cattle raiser, had been fatally wounded in a restaurant.
Curiously enough, neither Smith nor anybody else had been hurt, but even the police was misled and two orientals arrested, charged with murder.
An indignant mob gathered opposite the restaurant and there talked of lynching. Suddenly some one threw a rock, which smashed the front window. In a moment the crowd was beyond control. Bricks and stones were hurled, and when the doors had been broken in the tables and dishes inside were smashed. The Columbia and Alberta restaurants were completely smashed. Later a squadron of mounted police appeared and the crowd scattered.

Hundreds of rioters merely shifted the scene of the pillaging. Three blocks away from the Arlington hotel they cleaned another Chinese restaurant and roughly handled two orientals who were captured within. Mayor Galbraith and Magistrate Townsend both addressed the mob and urged it to disperse and as all possible damage had been done it obeyed.

Convicted Man Cuts Throat.

the convicted murderer of Charles H.
Morris, a wealthy mine owner, committed suicide in the county jail. He smuggled a razor into his cell, and cut his throat from ear to ear. Cain was waiting transportation to the state prison at Fort Madison, to which he had been sentenced for life.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

BRYAN, TEXAS, DECEMBER 28, 1907

One merit of "sermons in stones" is that they are long or short according to the hearer's fancy.

Reports from all over the country show that Santa Claus didn't know there was a panic raging.

Ability is the measure of responsibility, and whoever fails to live up to this standard is a defaulter.

Uncle Sam may have to build a Chinese wall along the Mexican and Canadian borders to keep out undesirable immigrants.

A Kansas school girl being asked to give a definition of the word demagogue, replied: "A vessel containing beer and other liquids."

The next great prohibition battle will be in Mississippi when the legislature meets in January. But maybe it will be only a San Juan Hill skirmish.

If the financial stringency had come before the farmers learned to diversify there would have been real distress, whereas there is only a little temporary inconvenience.

Colorado is a woman suffrage state and the democrats who wear skirts are demanding that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavell shall be sent to the national convention to place in nomination her illustrious father.

We don't wonder any more why the price of radium is high. A college professor has informed us that by its use a young lady can preserve her beauty in all its freshness and bloom for a hundred years or more.

William James Bryan has leaped suddenly into fame; the governor of Florida has appointed him to serve that state has appointed him to serve out the unexpired time of the late Senator Mollory. He is a cousin of William Jennings Bryan.

The promptness with which Hon. W. J. Bryan consented to give this city another date, to compensate for the unavoidable disappointment Tuesday night, notwithstanding the fact that all the towns of any pretensions in the Southwest are offering him all possible inducements to visit them, is characteristic of the man and is highly appreciated by the people of Bryan.

Confederate camps in Alabama have already begun to repudiate Congressman Hobson's bill to pension Confederate soldiers. They needn't be uneasy; the bill will never pass. But maybe their object is to put themselves on record as against it.

The democratic (so-called) state committee of Delaware has adopted resolutions "demanding" the nomination of Judge Gray by the national convention next year. That's mighty cheeky for a republican aid society in a little three-county state.

In his sermon at the Baptist church Sunday night Dr. Butler expressed the opinion that the greatest crisis in the history of the nation is confronting the American people. They have arrived, he thinks at the parting of the ways and must choose between the road that leads to the most glorious eminence in moral and material progress, prosperity and happiness ever achieved by any nation, and the road whose destination is moral decay, material decline and ultimate ruin, analogous to that of the Roman empire. He deplored the frivolity of all classes but more especially of the young people who are seeking only to "have a good time," oblivious of their duties and responsibilities and of the importance of preparing themselves to fill useful and honorable stations in the world. On the other hand God is working mightily among the people, stirring them up to greater efforts and grander achievements than ever before. On the whole, he takes a hopeful view of the outlook and predicts that the new year will be fruitful in great events. It was a sermon of extraordinary power.

Man is by nature a fighting animal and Americans are pre-eminently a fighting people. But happily, under the benign influence of Christianity, the fighting spirit is not so often devoted to the destruction of each other as to subduing for the common good the forces of nature and grappling with obstacles that have heretofore obstructed the path of progress. The fighting spirit also finds expression in political campaigns which offer great opportunities for the exercise of courage and strategy. The people of Texas love a hotly contested election.

MISS HELEN GRANTLY.

An advance notice says: Few plays in recent years have created such comment among Southern people as Christian Reid's war drama, "Under the Southern Cross" which Helen Grantly will present at the Opera House on New Year night. It tells of a beautiful Southern girl's courage and self-sacrifice during the stormy period of the Civil War and the story is almost identical with that of one of the most heroic life dramas of the winter of '63. As for Miss Grantly herself, local theatre goers will be glad to see her again, especially in a role in which her well known abilities have opportunity of display. The play is in four acts, two of which are interiors, and are intended to reflect the hospitality and chivalry of the Southern people. The others are the Federals in possession of an old farm house and a Confederate camp. The company surrounding Miss Grantly is an excellent one, composed of artists of ability.

KILLING NEAR RYE.

Negro Boy Reported Accidentally Shot by a White Boy while Hunting yesterday.

Information was received yesterday afternoon that while hunting near Rye yesterday afternoon a negro boy named Robert Allen was accidentally shot and killed by a white boy of that community. Deputy Sheriff Conlee went to the scene to investigate.

Joe Marriott has returned to Bessmay after a visit to Prof. E. Marriott and family. Mrs. Mark Baugh and children will return to San Antonio after a visit to Prof. Marriott.

Later.

Deputy Sheriff Conlee returned from Rye last night and reported that the killing of the negro was purely accidental, and was done by Lee Kopecky, son of Joe Kopecky, while bird hunting. The negro boy, Allen, had a bird dog and the two went hunting yesterday morning. In the afternoon they were joined by Joe and Adolph Kopecky and were making a drive of birds up a branch. At the suggestion of the negro, he followed along with the dog in the bed of the branch while Joe and Adolph Kopeck went along on one side and Lee Kopecky the other. The covey rose and flew back over their heads and as Lee Kopecky wheeled to shoot his gun was accidentally discharged and the contents struck the negro, Allen, in the face, killing him instantly. The matter was at once reported to the officers by Mr. Kopecky, and the body left where it had fallen until the examination was made by Deputy Sheriff Conlee. The negro had both barrels of his own gun cocked as if about to shoot, and birds and rabbits in his game bag, which he had previously killed.
